

Information on the update of educational programs of Master's degree for academic year 2022-2023

Faculty of Humanities

For academic year 2022-2023 for strengthening of pedagogical component are introduced disciplines of pedagogical orientation "Modern educational technology" and "Pedagogical ethics of the modern teacher", "Methodological innovation in historical research", "Conceptual framework of historical science", "Contemporary issues of national history", "History of famine in the Semipalatinsk region 30th. The twentieth century: the problems of study and learning", "Actual problems of historiography of national history", "Methodology and problematics of history of everyday life in historiography of the XX-XXI centuries", which entailed a change of learning outcomes, forming professional knowledge and skills of psychological and educational research, application of theoretical and practical knowledge in the history, implementation of complex research of theoretical and methodological achievements of historical science.